The persistant efforts of the Evening Express to persuade its limited number of readers that the HERALD is hostile to Senator Jones and inimical to the Los Angeles and Indepenall save a little coterie made up of individuals who cannot distinguish the difference between toadyism and honest endorsement. Will Immigration Decrease.

The question has been asked, will not the failure of the Bank of California and the ensuing panic have the effect of retarding immigration to California. This is a serious question indeed, and upon its answer in a measure depends the prosperity of the Paeific coast in the near future. It is argued that the people of the States, feeling at home the disastrous effects of the New York panie of 1873 will naturally enough assume the same consequences here, and therefore prefer to remain where they are. This view of the case, however ignores the important fact that there is in California the soundest currency system in the world. She is the great treasure house of the world and while her mines pour forth their streams of gold and silver a protracted specie famine ning to express sympathy for the late W. C. is an impossibility. The Comstock Lode alone can supply more coin than the most avaricious community in the world could hoard. For banks to decay for lack of coin on this coast is as abnormal as for the inhabitants of New Orleans to die of thirst. We do not of course venture the assertion that reckless management and wild speculation may not cause re-action and financial trouble here as elsewhere. On than the mere mistrust endang ered by newspaper libels. But the marvelous rapidity of the recovery from the shock indicates the inherent strength of our financial system. Gold is pouring into San Francisco at such a rate that there will soon be a plethora. On the other hand the irredeemable paper currency of the States finally brought on a panic from which it will take years to recover. Two seasons have passed since the inauguration of hills while in their natural shape but the troubles, and the situation is more more distant than it did twenty-four months ago. Every branch of industry is indeed down to the verge of ruin. The cotton and woolen mills, though running press on the late Wm. C. The sycophant to the living rich one day, iron and coal interests are in even a deal of business; without a formal reworse plight, and the suffering among the workmen beyond all precedent in ness if not moral turpitude anything this country. Commerce drags more heavily each week. Failures in all the cities are reported on the increase. As a necessary consequence money is lying idle in the vaults, and the rate of interest is lower than ever known. There is no confidence among business men, and securities of all kinds are steadily depreciating, while real estate ator Jones and FLOOD and O'BRIEN is scarcely saleable at any price. The Bank of California closes with liabilities of twenty million, and immediately the capitalists step forward and put the institution in a position to open in a better condition than ever. Indeed the people of the States will now have a higher appreciation der its benisient influence. So far the recent financial troubles will tend to swell the tide of travel to our shores and the capacity of all the lines of transportation will be taxed to their utmost this Fall and Winter.

California's Social Condition.

The most zealous missionary of to-day looking back over the dence Railroad excites the ridicule of history of the church will scarcely deny the truth of the assertion that the material development of the world must precede any permanant foot-hold of the Bible. Seldom indeed is there a case of burglary, robbery or even larceny, and our habitations are singularly free from bolts and bars. The court records of Los Angeles will compare favorably with those of any portion of the United States.

The Golden Stream.

If is gratifying to know that the mines of the Pacific coast are still pouring out increased streams of the precious metals dispite the apparent scarcity of coin in San Francisco Since January 1st 1875, the consolidated Virginia mine alone has shipped in January $1,000,597, February $1,-200,743. March $1,707,571, April $1,509,-557, May $1,521,777, June $1,503,816. This is at the rate of $18,000,000 to $20,-000,000 a year out of one shaft of the Bonanza we may say, an increase over last year of about seventy-five per cent. The Nevada mines will yield during this calendar year no less than $60,000,000 against $35,000,000 last year, which will increase the total to about $100,000,000, an amount equal to the average reserve of the bank of England. Dr. LINDERMAN estimates that the California and consolidated that the late panic had a deeper cause companies have $10,000,000, to $15,000,-000 of ore in sight and Messrs. FLOOD and FAIR expect soon to ship $4,000,000 bullion per month.

LEXINGTON, Ill., Sept. 10th .- The sky towards the west last night gave indications of an approaching storm, and at about half past eight o'clock it broke upon the city and its surroundings. For several minutes there had been an almost continued peal of thunder, the wind was from the west or a little north of west, and it drove before it a terrific rain almost tropical in character, flooding the streets. The storm was soon over its fury, having BOOTS & SHOES been spent in its outburst, and immediately subsided. In the business part of the city no serious damage was noticed though many chimneys yielded. At Normal, the home of Mr. T. C. Funk had been wrecked by the storm. Their financial loss is great, as much of the clothing of himself and wife were entangled in the ruins and soaked in the rain, and many valuables were scattered over the fields and lost. The steamer Los Angeles arrived at Santa Monica last evening, and her passengers came up by stage. Judging by the rush for rooms at the hotels she must have had a good list. She was detained six days on the route by breaking of her machinery. The damage has been repaired, however, and she sails for San Francisco this morning.

> Bee culture is spreading rapidly in adjoining coanties, and if Los Angeles does not push onward she will cease to be the banner honey county. In 1874 no less than eight thousand bee-hives were manufactured by a single establishment. Santa Barbara and San Bernardino are increasing the number of their colonies rapidly. The average yield is said to be one hundred ibs. and the increase one hundred and fifty per cent. At 25 cents per pound the income is $25 per hive, and besides $8 to $15 worth of bees. Good stands are now selling in San Bernardino for $5 to $12 each and they are worth about the same here. At the present rate of increase it is estimated that there will be in four years one million stands of bees in these three counties, which will produce annually 100,000,-000 pounds of honey worth $20,000,000, which is more than the value of the sugar and molasses crops of Louisiana, Texas and Florida combined.

The Neighboring Counties.

Affairs in San Bernardino are brightening with the advent of the railroad, and real estate is appreciating rapidly now that transportation for farm products is offered at reasonable terms. It seems to us that our neighbors when abroad would be ashamed to call themselves Santa Barbarians,

The Santa Barbara papers seem anxious to ruin the county, for they dwell principally upon the advantages of the place for consumptives, while Los Angeles holds out inducements to the healthy. It may be, however, that the journalists over there own more stock in the graveyards than in anything else, and have an interest in the
